

Promote biodiversity

With the CitroApis Program implemented across 100% of our own farms, we have achieved our initial commitment to implement structured conservation projects on 100% of the hectares designated for environmental protection.

We recognize the critical role of biodiversity for our agricultural operations and, above all, for a balanced environment. Now, together, we will turn new commitments into reality.

By 2030

We will plant

2 million native seedlings

We will implement Citrosuco's Biodiversity Policy, ensuring more than.

80% compliance with the TNFD, positioning the company among the best in the sector in terms of biodiversity practices, in accordance with the standard.
